

Preschool Newsletter

May 2005

We are all enjoying some of the beautiful weather we have had lately. It is good to get outside and enjoy the fresh air. We are looking forward to allergy season being over so we can all enjoy being outside! In May, classes will be experiencing activities related to the themes of flowers, mothers, farm, bugs and colors.

Autism Parent Workshop

The Autism Parent Workshop for this month will be May 3rd and the discussion will be about summer school services for PAC students. Watch for flyers.

PAC News

Wednesday, April 4 is our PAC Team day. PAC Students do not attend school. There is no PAC day in June.

School Holiday

Monday, May 30 is a school holiday to celebrate Memorial Day. Schools will be closed.

Snack Money

Snack money ($5.00) is due for May if you have not already sent it in.

10 Year Anniversary

On Friday, May 27, Aldrin Elementary will be celebrating it's 10 year anniversary. Various activities will be scheduled including a visit from Dr. Buzz Aldrin. It is an exciting time for the school and our preschoolers will participate as they are able.

Spring Field Trips

For planning purposes, the morning classes will be having an "at school field trip" on June 10th with a gross motor/dance interactive presentation by "Mr. Jeff". Afternoon classes are going to Frying Pan Park on June 2nd. Letters will more specific information will come home shortly. PAC classes will participate in both activities.

Extra Snow Days

June 3rd and 6th were extra make up snow days that were built into the school calendar for this year. Since we did not use them, these will be holidays for students and staff.

Last Day of School

The last day of school for our preschoolers is Friday, June 17th. Please note that this is a week earlier than the rest of the school system ends. Teachers will be packing up classrooms and making home visits that week after preschool ends.

Communication Notebook

Please remember to check you child's communication notebook daily. This is such a good means of communicating the "little things" that are so important in a child's life as well as to remind you of things coming up. Please also use them to communicate with us. It is helpful to know if a child did not sleep well the night before or if they have done something at home that we have been working on as school. With the exception of PAC classes, we do get to talk on a regular basis, but the little things are important too. For PAC students, it is sometimes our only means of communication.

Dates to Remember

May 3 Autism Parent Workshop

May 4 PAC Team Day
PAC students do not attend

May 27 Aldrin 10th Anniversary
Celebration

May 30 Memorial Day
Schools are closed

June 2 PM and PAC – Frying Pan
Park

June 3&6 Unused Snow Days
Holiday for students and teachers.

June 10 AM and PAC - “at school field trip”

June 17 Last day of preschool