Junior Class Ethics Day - Tuesday, November 24, all day beginning at 7:30

On Tuesday, November 24, 2009, we will present our third annual Ethics Day program for the junior class. We at Chantilly High School believe that today's students must be equipped with the ability to analyze and critically evaluate ethical dilemmas, develop an understanding of competing values, and scrutinize options for resolution. Tolerance for ambiguity and the recognition that there may be no single ideal solution to ethically problematic situations are part of life. Our goal for ethics education is for our students to have these skills in resolving ethical dilemmas in practice before they move on to post-secondary and higher education, and eventually to positions in business, science, government, and the community.
