

Andrea Heininge, a Fairfax County native, has just returned from three years in New York City. While there she danced with PushFactor Dance Company and Undertoe Dance Project, worked for the New York International Ballet Competition, and taught dance classes at the New York Kids Club. She also served on the faculty of and was a judge for DanzJam Conventions in the New England area. She trained locally at the Center for Ballet Arts and performed as a member of Dancin' Unlimited Dance Company and the Ballet Arts Ensemble. She attended summer programs including American Ballet Theater, North Carolina School of the Arts, Parsons Dance Company New York City Intensive and Jacob's Pillow Dance Festival. She received her BFA in Dance from Point Park University, where she was also awarded Outstanding Graduating Senior. At Point Park, she had the honor to work with such choreographers as Alan Hineline, Mark Diamond, Heidi Latsky, Sandra Torijano and Jeannie Hill. Andrea is dancing professional with Fusion Dance.
