

Are you a high school freshman?

Interested in leadership and social responsibility?

The Hugh O' Brien Youth Leadership organization of Northern Virginia is hosting its 2012 Community Leadership Workshop (CLeW), an intensive, one-day seminar for high school freshmen who have demonstrated significant leadership potential. Those selected to attend will experience a fast-paced program centered on social responsibility, youth entrepreneurship, and multi-disciplinary innovation.

CLeW will be held on March 24th, 2012, at Battlefield High School (Haymarket, VA).

Program highlights include:

- Speakers from organizations like CityYear, Habitat for Humanity, LearnServe International, and Amnesty International
- Student founders of nonprofits, scholarship funds, and businesses
- Leaders in multi-disciplinary fields, corporations, and emerging markets
 - Interactive leadership development and team-building exercises
 - Community service element benefiting a local charity

Participants will also be informed of elite leadership opportunities available to high school students, and become part of the HOB student network.

To receive the student application, email mary.sun@vahoby.org with your name, school, and grade no later than December 31st, 2011

A maximum of five students will be selected per school.
