Early Release

Students will be dismissed at 1:00 P.M. on Tuesday, October 6, 2009.

We have had a great first month of school. Students are working hard to learn classroom routines and procedures. We have high expectations for their behavior and they are working to meet them. Homework in both reading and math is an expectation for all students Monday through Friday. Please support your child by inquiring about their homework, providing an area to do the homework, and making sure they have a set time to complete homework. Homework is an important routine to help promote responsibility.

Our school made AYP! We are so proud of the hard work demonstrated by our students and staff. The gains we made on the SOL tests were so significant that The Washington Post Newspaper chose to highlight our success.

Our school is getting a makeover. A new addition is being built where the former modular building was housed. We are looking forward to this new addition and will keep you posted on the developments.

We are excited about the upcoming year and are thrilled to be serving the children of Hybla Valley!
