

What a great job the students in trailers 3 and 4 have done in learning about the three Indian groups we have studied and the regions in which they lived. We hope they have shared some of their newly acquired knowledge with you. For homework this week, the students will design a brochure about one of the three Indian groups we have studied: Powhatan, Sioux or Hopi.

The two lines on the cover of the brochure are for a title. The line under the picture box is the by line. The brochures include the following topics: food, clothing, shelter, recreation and transportation. Each topic should have at least two sentences of information. Drawings should be included in the box provided under each topic. Please note that the brochure is two-sided. These brochures will be displayed at our Powwow in March. Therefore, please help your child edit their writing for capitals and periods as well as spelling. The brochures are due this Friday, March 1st. Be creative and have a good time!
