

I am a road.

This is part of a map that shows the cardinal directions.

9

I am a compass rose.

This is a direction. When people ask you for directions, you might say, "turn _____." I am not left and I rhyme with bright.

10

I am right.

This is a landform. There are five of these on Earth. The closest one to us is the Atlantic.

11

I am an ocean.

Some people call this a legend. It shows you what each of the pictures on a map mean (ie. a  shows where a city is.) There are two words in its name.

12

I am a map key.

This is the opposite of below. Think of this as higher than something else. You might think it rhymes with love.

13

I am above.

This is a landform. It is flat and usually covered with grass. There is a word that sounds just like this but means a flying machine.

14

I am a plain.

There are seven of these on Earth. It is made up of lots of different countries. The one you live on is North America. Some of the others are Africa, South America and Antarctica.

15

I am a continent.

This is a state. You might say that it is shaped like a triangle.

18