

Artist Statement

Brianna and Jaida

Our group created a totem pole for Powhatan Indians. They lived in the Eastern Woodlands. We represented the type of food they ate with a fish at the top of the totem pole. There was also a picture of an indian shooting a rabbit with a bow and arrow painted on the pole. These indians ate deer, rabbit, fox, fish, and other animals that lived in the woods, rivers and oceans near their homes.