

LJ Diaries

The next day, Rosie decided to have a talk with Belle.
"Belle, I can't believe you told people my secret! I told you not to tell anyone!" Rosie yelled to her.

Belle just stood there quietly. Rosie choose to walk away, thinking that she couldn't trust Belle any longer. Their friendship was then history.

An untrustworthy friend was caught in the 500 hallway spilling a secret! Rosie's secret! Rosie was shocked and felt disappointed. Belle continued to tell her friend Cecile about Rosie's embarrassing secret. Belle whispered to Cecile, "...and they call her unsmooched!"

Days passed and their relationship grew significantly. Because of this, Rosie trusted Belle enough to tell her a secret.

Rosie told her, "Belle, I have never kissed a guy before! Shh..please don't tell anyone!"

Belle was surprised and she agreed not to tell.

Rosie entered the school the next day and found that people were pointing and laughing at her wherever she went. Rosie was confused. Why was this happening to her?

This was Rosie's first day of school! She was very nervous and scared about how the kids there would be and how the kids there would react to her.

Walking down the hallways, Rosie made a new friend named Belle. Rosie said to her, "Hi, nice to meet you, I'm Rosie!" Belle responded, "I'm Belle, nice meeting you too, you seem pretty cool, let me show you around school!"
