

A Wake-Up Call: Protect Your Child From Substance Abuse

Date: Thursday, April 16

Time: 7 – 8:30 p.m.

Location: Auditorium,
Chantilly High School

“My child started using drugs in 8th grade. If I had known then what I know now, about warning signs and getting help, maybe he wouldn’t have gone on to stronger drugs.” Program Speaker

- Discover the signs and symptoms of teenage drug abuse.
- Learn what action parents can take if they suspect abuse.
- Obtain supportive resources.
- Hear from local parents, professional counselors, law enforcement personnel and a young person who has been through treatment.

This free program is a combined community effort co-sponsored by the Centreville, Chantilly and Westfield high schools PTAs, along with each high school’s Community coalition, which are sponsored by the Safe and Drug-Free Youth Section of Fairfax County Public Schools, Alcohol and Drug Services, Community Service Board, Community Recreation Service and the Substance Abuse and Recovery Alliance (Saara).
