A guide for students and their parents!

Coates Elementary School and Positive Behavioral Interventions and Support

The focus of Positive Behavioral Intervention Supports (PBIS) is to provide a clear and consistent system of expected behaviors for the entire school. While many staff members and students know what behaviors are acceptable at school, we cannot assume that everyone's expectations are the same.

Through PBIS, we intend to create and maintain a productive, safe environment in which all school members understand behavioral expectations and why these behaviors benefit the school community as a whole.

The Coates Pledge

As Coates Stars, we will remember to be

Respectful of others,

Responsible for ourselves and our surroundings,

And ready to shine at all times!

Be a Star...

Know the Zones!

Red-Silent

Yellow-Inside Voices

Green-Outside Voices

Coates Cafeteria

Students are expected to remain seated, use good table manners, speak quietly using kind words, and use "please," "thank you," and "you're welcome." Please help your child master cafeteria expectations by practicing them at family meals.

Hallway, Lobby and Playground

During the school day, students are expected to move silently through the red zones so as not to disturb others who are learning. Students should stay to the right to allow traffic to flow smoothly. During arrival and dismissal, we practice "Yellow Zone" behavior. "Green Zone" behavior is practiced on the playground outside.

Restrooms

Students are expected to efficiently use the restrooms, wash hands, and quickly return to where they were dismissed.
