Introduction

Career and Transition Services, Office of Counseling and College and Career Readiness, designed this Transition Tool Kit for Parents to share strategies, resources, and tools to assist in the transition planning process.

Planning a student’s transition from school to postsecondary options is a critical part of the individual education program (IEP) process in the middle and high school years. Transition planning is ongoing and outcome-oriented, based on collaboration between a student with disabilities, his or her family, school and adult service personnel, and the community.

The Individuals with Disabilities Education Improvement Act (IDEIA 2004) defines transition services as follows:

A coordinated set of activities for a student with a disability that –

- Is designed to be within a results-oriented process that is focused on improving the academic and functional achievement of the student with a disability to facilitate the student’s movement from school to postschool activities, including postsecondary education, vocational education, integrated employment (including supported employment), continuing and adult education, adult services, independent living, or community participation;
- Is based upon the individual student’s needs, taking into account the student’s strengths, preferences and interests;
- Includes instruction, related services, community experiences, the development of employment and other postschool adult living objectives, and, if appropriate, acquisition of daily living skills and functional vocational evaluation. [Part A, Section 602(34)].

Transition planning is a critical component of each student’s IEP. IDEIA 2004 requires the following:

1) Beginning not later than the first IEP to be in effect when the student turns 16, or younger if determined appropriate by the IEP Team, and updated annually, thereafter, the IEP must include –
   i. Appropriate measurable postsecondary goals based upon age appropriate transition assessments related to training, education, employment, and where appropriate, independent living skills; and
   ii. The transition services (including courses of study) needed to assist the student in reaching those goals. [Section 614(d)(1)(A)(VIII)]

2) Beginning not later than one year before the student reaches the age of majority under state law, a statement that the student has been informed of the student’s rights under IDEIA, if any, that will transfer to the student on reaching the age of majority under Section 615(m).

Fairfax County Public Schools (FCPS) requires that each student’s IEP include a transition plan beginning in grade 8 or at age 14, whichever comes first. The transition plan identifies individualized postsecondary goals, outlines the steps necessary to achieve them, and drives the content of the entire IEP. With careful and considered planning, each student should be equipped with the skills necessary to take advantage of the opportunities and meet the challenges of life after high school.

When transition services are being considered, the second and third pages of the IEP become the transition planning section. The Transition Goals form (IEP-303) includes transition assessment information about the student’s preferences and strengths, as well as career and postsecondary goals for education, training, employment, and independent living. In addition, yearly benchmark transition objectives related to the postsecondary goals are essential. The Transition Services form (IEP-304) lists school and postsecondary transition services to consider during the IEP meeting.

The Final Summary of Performance (SOP - SS/SE-210) is required for graduating students during their final year in school. The intent of the SOP is to provide a concise summary of the transition planning and activities that have taken place during the secondary years. This form is not part of the IEP but, as required by law, is provided to all graduating students.
Transition Planning

When to Begin Transition Planning

Planning for the transition to adult life is part of students’ IEPs as they move through secondary school. Planning must begin early to give students time to learn about themselves and their strengths and skills, and to begin making tentative career decisions. FCPS students begin transition planning no later than grade 8 or age 14, whichever comes first. Transition planning requires the student’s active involvement in the process before, during, and after the IEP meeting. Decisions cannot be made without student involvement. IDEIA specifically states the following:

- Transition services shall be based on the individual child’s needs, taking into account the child’s strengths, preferences, and interests…
- School staff members…must invite a child with a disability to attend his or her IEP team meeting if a purpose of the meeting will be the consideration of the postsecondary goals for the child and the transition services needed to assist the child in reaching those goals under Section § 300.320(b).
- Parents or guardians must be notified that the meeting will discuss transition services and that the student has been invited.
- If the student cannot attend the meeting, school staff members must be sure the student’s strengths, preferences, and interests are included when addressing transition services.

Additionally, if the student has reached the age of majority – age 18 in Virginia – all rights related to special education procedural safeguards transfer from the parent or guardian to the student. Parents or guardians continue to be informed, but the student has decision-making authority unless decision-making guardianship has been retained through legal means. For some students, as they prepare to graduate, it may be appropriate to consider postsecondary services and supports. IDEIA addresses the role of postsecondary service providers as follows:

- “To the extent appropriate, with the consent of the parents or a child who has reached the age of majority, in implementing the requirements of paragraph (b)(1) of this section, the public agency must invite a representative of any participating agency that is likely to be responsible for providing or paying for transition services.”

It is important that students be involved in their own transition planning and the entire IEP process. Once students reach transition age, they should attend the IEP meeting and participate to the extent they are able. Listed below are reasons why it is important for students to be active participants in the IEP process:

- To be more invested and engaged in their education and plans for the future
- To learn how accommodations can assist them with learning challenges
- To increase their own self-awareness (understanding strengths and support needs)
- To learn how to set goals and work toward them, adjust them, and continue moving forward
- To learn how to self-advocate and live a self-determined life
- To determine and develop annual goals
- To monitor their own progress on IEP goals and objectives
- To participate at the IEP meeting
  - Introduce IEP team members
  - Present their transition plan
  - Share video or pictures from community work experience
  - Report on career interests
  - Report on goal progress
  - Discuss accommodations that best fit their individual learning style
  - Lead their IEP meeting
The IEP team should adopt the practice of Student-Focused Planning. Student-Focused Planning consists of the following principles:

- Identifying and documenting students’ postschool goals, learning preferences, and need for accommodations
- Using a variety of assessment information as a basis for the IEP
- Identifying measurable transition-related goals and objectives that focus on postsecondary education or training, employment, independent living, and community and leisure activities
- Developing educational experiences that correspond with postschool goals and objectives such as participation in college preparatory curricula or vocational and technical education
- Through the IEP, specifying responsibility for transition-focused instructional activities or services
- Developing students’ abilities to participate meaningfully in the development of their IEP
- Utilizing a planning process that is student-centered and facilitates students’ self-determination, including student decision-making
- Providing appropriate accommodations that facilitate student and family involvement in the individual planning process, and specifically in the IEP meeting
- Evaluating the progress or attainment of student goals at least annually, including student evaluation of his or her progress

Transition Assessment

Transition assessment is an ongoing process of collecting data on the individual’s needs, preferences, and interests as they relate to the demands of current and future working, educational, living, personal, and social environments. Transition assessment should try to answer questions such as:

- What are the student’s interests?
- What are the student’s strengths?
- What academic areas does the student need to strengthen to stay on track for his or her career goal?
- What life skills areas does the student need to strengthen to reach his or her independent living goal?
- What high school courses does the student need to take in order to prepare for future employment goals?

Procedures for quality transition assessment and transition planning include the following steps:

- Assess: educators assess the student’s interests, preferences, and needs related to postschool goals using both formal and informal assessments
- Plan: educators interpret the assessment results and incorporate them into the student’s transition plan
- Instruct: students learn the skills they will need to reach their postsecondary goals
- Evaluate: students and educators evaluate whether progress has been made toward achieving the transition activities and IEP goals and objectives

IEP 303 has a section that details several types of transition assessments available in FCPS. The following two pages contain a blank sample of IEP 303.

IEP 304 (4/18) Transition Services
Tips and Strategies for Transition Planning

The transition planning process involves a few simple rules that, if followed, will yield positive results for students. Below is an explanation of each rule, as well as suggested tools for the implementation of each rule.

Rule #1: Be Future-oriented

Project where students want to be in their early adult years and plan backward through all the steps necessary to get there. See the sidebar Charting My Future for an example of future-oriented planning.

A future-oriented approach highlights the relevance of today’s schoolwork for tomorrow’s outcomes. This approach enables students to see what needs to be accomplished, to anticipate possible obstacles, and to initiate plans to overcome roadblocks.

Tools To Assist With This Rule

The Educational and Career Planning Portfolio (pages 25-29) is a transition planning tool designed to help students and their parents or guardians identify and develop realistic postsecondary goals. By maintaining a record of all academic coursework, career-related coursework, academic and career assessments, work experiences, and extra-curricular activities the Career Portfolio guides students to career decision-making that reflects both their interests and abilities.

The Career Portfolio includes four pages that form a folder to enclose relevant information, including:

- Contents Checklist which indicates which assessment information is enclosed
- Career Goal and Objectives are charted each year during development of the students’ transition plans
- Transition Goal Activities lists any transition objectives achieved and courses completed from the previous year’s IEP transition plan, as well as any career competencies or certifications earned
- Transition Assessment Record documents the results of formal and informal transition assessments
- Student Activity Record captures all career-related courses, work experiences, and extracurricular activities in which the student has participated

The Career Portfolio gathers the transition assessment information that is the foundation of the student’s transition plan. It is initiated with a student’s first transition IEP, at age 14 or in grade 8. The portfolio then follows the student through his or her high school years. Additionally, the Career Portfolio is an ideal tool for capturing information needed to complete the Final Summary of Performance (pages 30-33) prior to graduation.

The following additional tools can assist in ensuring that the planning process is future-oriented, and may be included in the Career Portfolio:

- Charting My Future – Middle School (page 15) and High School (page 16) helps students determine the steps they must take to reach their goals. Students identify where they would like to be, in terms of both career and personal goals, by age 25. This can be reviewed each year to determine what needs to be accomplished to achieve identified goals.
- IEP-304 Transition Services to Consider (pages 6 and 7) gives a brief description of each service listed on the Transition Services page of the IEP.
- Turning 18: Resources for Young Adults (page 33) provides information students need to know when they reach the age of majority.
- FCPS Career Instruction Resources (pages 34-35), Community and Postsecondary Resources (page 36), and Web Resources (pages 37-41) list Career and Transition Services (CTS) transition courses and programs, contact information for postsecondary service providers, and website resources that may be helpful.

- Academic and Career Plan (ACP) - The Academic and Career Plan (ACP) is a process for students to plan for the future by exploring college and career options. Students have opportunities to discover their personal strengths and interests, create goals to help them achieve success, plan for courses that meet high school graduation requirements and prepare them for life after high school. Each student’s plan is stored electronically in the Naviance Student tool and can be accessed by students through their FCPS 24-7 Blackboard account. The ACP is updated regularly as each student’s academic, personal, and career goals change. The following is a list of Career and Transition personnel that can help students with fulfilling Academic and Career Plan requirements:
  - Career and Transition Teachers
  - Employment and Transition Representatives
  - Academy Support Teachers
  - Special Education Career Center Teachers

Rule #2: Start Early and Review Annually

IDEIA 2004 requires that transition planning begins early. The key to effective transition planning is to start early with a long-range plan, as described above, and then revisit the plan at least once a year to see if it continues to make sense. For the continuing story of John, see the sidebar Charting My Future II.

Charting My Future II

If John still wants to be a doctor and has passed the 8th grade SOL and earned good grades in science, then he is on track to achieve his goal.

If he hasn’t carried out these two objectives, John and his family need to make some decisions:

1. Will John spend more time on his homework, get some tutoring, and enroll in a remediation class so he can reach his goals and continue with the original plan; OR
2. Is the original plan unrealistic?

If John doesn’t want to be a doctor anymore OR if the original plan was unrealistic, he can choose another career goal and make another future-oriented plan.

Tools to Assist with This Rule

- Transition Planning Checklist for Students and Parents (page 17) can be completed at home by students and their family members to help identify their transition planning priorities. This input is particularly useful in completing the independent living objectives in the Transition Objectives box on the IEP-303.

- Transition Timeline – Middle School to Graduation (pages 12-14) provides a year-by-year list of transition-related activities designed to prepare students for a variety of postsecondary outcomes. It presents an overview of all the activities involved in transition planning from middle school through high school. Students choose among the activities listed based on their long-term goals.

- Suggested Transition Objectives (pages 18-24) can be used to draft career, self-advocacy, and independent living objectives in the Transition Objectives section on the IEP-303.

Rule #3: Revise, Revise, Revise

Beginning transition planning early and reviewing plans regularly enables students and families to check the appropriateness of the transition plans in order to fine-tune goals and plans during the years leading to graduation. See Charting My Future III: John’s revised plan on the following page.

Tools to Assist With This Rule

Transition Timeline – Middle School to Graduation (pages 12-14)
Charting My Future - Middle School and High School (pages 15 and 16)
Educational and Career Planning Portfolio (pages 26-29)
Academic and Career Plan – Naviance Student – FCPS Blackboard 24-7
The Parent’s Role

Three rules for effective transition planning that maximize options and opportunities include:

1) Be future-oriented
2) Start early and review annually
3) Revise, revise, revise

Middle school students - Focus on the process rather than being overly concerned with a realistic outcome. Once students learn the basics of transition planning, they will continue to practice the process throughout their high school years. Students may refine their goals and change their career choices many times.

All students - Help students identify objectives that need to be accomplished (e.g., tests passed, diploma earned, skills mastered) to achieve the long-range goal.

All students - Be sure to review the plan regularly. Discuss with students and staff members whether adequate progress has been made.

High school students – Be sure to complete the required Final Summary of Performance (pages 30-32) before the student graduates from high school.

Charting My Future III

If medical school is unrealistic for John, he could explore health-related occupations that require less rigorous academic preparation.

John would then revise his plan accordingly and list the things he needs to accomplish over the next year. This list then becomes the basis for his transition plan.

The following year, he will measure his progress against the plan and continue to make choices about the path he wants to pursue.

Suggested Transition Objectives

The following list is designed to help students, parents, and teachers formulate the “Transition Objectives” section on the Transition Goals page (IEP-303). These areas are Career, Self-Advocacy, and Independent Living.

Educational and Career Planning Portfolio

The Educational and Career Planning Portfolio is a transition planning tool designed to help students and their parents or guardians formulate realistic postsecondary goals. The Career Portfolio guides students to career decision making that reflects both their interests and their abilities. When updated annually, the Career Portfolio includes information needed to complete the Final Transition Summary of Performance required for all students as they graduate or age out of public school.

The Career Portfolio, kept in each student’s special services file, is initiated with the student’s first transition IEP at age 14 or in grade 8, and then follows the student through his or her high school years.

The Five “W”s of Portfolio Management

WHO: Primary responsibility for ensuring that the Portfolio is updated regularly rests with the teacher or case manager who assists the student in drafting the transition plan for the IEP. All school staff members who work with the student may record relevant information in the Portfolio, file information in the Portfolio, and refer to the Portfolio when assisting with transition planning.

WHAT: The Portfolio is a specially designed folder which is placed in the student’s special services file at the time of the first transition IEP. Information essential to the transition planning process is recorded directly in the Portfolio in designated areas. Additional relevant information is filed in the Portfolio.

WHEN: With each year’s new IEP transition plan, the Portfolio is updated as outlined in the page-by-page instructions, found in the link to the guidelines above. Throughout the year, students, teachers, and parents or guardians add any transition related information. The Portfolio is available at the IEP meeting so information may be added, and the contents may be consulted for planning purposes.

WHERE: When not in use, the Portfolio is stored in the student’s special services file, allowing easy access to all those involved in the student’s transition planning process.

WHY: Transition planning is not a once-a-year event. To be effective, it must be a long-term process, based on age-appropriate transition assessments, that starts in middle school and continues until the student graduates or ages out. It must include future-oriented planning to identify the student’s likely postsecondary environments; annual goal setting to equip the student with the skills and behaviors he or she will need to succeed in those environments; and annual review and revision to ensure a continued fit with the student’s interests, aptitudes, and goals. The Career Portfolio is a tool to both document the course of this long-term planning process, and to gather the information necessary to make revisions along the way.

The Educational and Career Planning Portfolio is showcased on the following four pages.

FCPS Final Summary of Performance

The Final Summary of Performance meets IDEIA’s requirement for a summary of performance for every student exiting public education. This is not part of the IEP, and must be completed prior to students graduating, aging out, or dropping out of secondary school. The ETR or case manager meets with the student throughout his or her final school year to complete the Final Summary of Performance. Much of the information needed can be found in the student’s Career Portfolio and Special Services file. When the Final Summary of Performance is completed the following procedures should be followed:

General
- Complete during final semester prior to student’s exit from FCPS
- ETR or case manager meets with student to complete
- Find information in each student’s Career Portfolio
- The student’s Career Portfolio is in the student’s Special Services file

Completing the Process
- If student is aged 18 or older: student signs the document
- If student is under age 18: parent or guardian must sign the document and return to case manager or ETR
- Provide a copy to student or parent or guardian
- Place a copy in the Career Portfolio in the student’s Special Services file
- Provide a copy to the student’s adult service agency, such as the Department for Aging and Rehabilitative Services (DARS) if applicable (requires release of records)

A sample of the FCPS Final Summary of Performance can be found on the following two pages.

Turning 18 – Resources for Young Adults

Age of Majority

Every individual becomes his or her own guardian upon turning 18 years of age. At this point, the person can sign legal documents, including agreement or disagreement to their individual education program (IEP). Additional information can be found in the Age of Majority and Educational Representation brochures.

When appropriate, families may investigate guardianship and special needs trusts prior to age 18. Information is available on these topics at the ARC websites: www.thearcinvirginia.org (local), www.thearc.org (national). The local ARC office number is 703-208-1119.

Benefits

Individuals with disabilities may meet financial eligibility for Supplemental Security Income (SSI) benefits. Prior to age 18 family income is considered. After age 18, individual income is considered. Contact the Social Security Administration (SSA) 30 days prior to a person turning 18 years of age, at 1-800-772-1213 for application information.

When receiving SSI benefits, it is important to notify the Social Security Administration (SSA) of any changes in work status or income. SSI benefits are adjusted to reflect changes in income or living expenses. As individuals save or earn money, SSI payment amounts will change as SSI is a needs-based benefit. SSA does make allowances for costs associated with disabilities through the application for Impairment-Related Work Expenses (IRWE) or Plan to Achieve Self-Support (PASS). For Work Incentives Planning and Assistance, contact Marilyn Morrison, 571-339-1305, or mmorrison@vaaccses.org.

Individuals eligible for SSI benefits may also be eligible for Medicaid. Call the Department of Family Services at 703-324-7500 and ask for the short Medicaid application form used by people currently receiving SSI. There are also a variety of Medicaid waiver programs that can provide some funding for services. For eligibility criteria see: http://www.dmas.virginia.gov/#eligibilitypolicy.

Employment and Adult Services

Individuals with disabilities can apply for employment services through the Virginia Department for Aging and Rehabilitative Services (DARS). An individual may also apply for services through the Fairfax-Falls Church Community Services Board Developmental Disabilities Services (CSB/DDS) or Mental Health Services (CSB/MH), if they meet eligibility requirements. For residential services or respite care, it is important to open a case with CSB/DDS Services before the individual’s final year of school. There may be waiting lists for services.

Transportation

Specialized transportation service, Metro Access, is available through the Washington Metropolitan Area Transit Authority. Call 301-562-5360 or go to https://www.wmata.com/service/accessibility/metro-access/index.cfm#main-content for applications and information.

Selective Service

Almost all male U.S. citizens, and some noncitizens living in the U.S., are required to register with Selective Service within 30 days of their 18th birthday. Men with disabilities that would disqualify them from military service must register with Selective Service. For more information go to: http://www.sss.gov.
FCPS Career Instruction Resources

General Education Career Assessment Resources

High School Career Centers
These centers serve as the primary source of career information in each FCPS high school and provide Internet access for college and career searches.

Academic and Career Plan (ACP) and Naviance Student
The Academic and Career Plan (ACP) and Naviance Student provide 24/7 access to high school students’ individual plans and resources for post-graduation life.

CTS Assessment Services

Comprehensive Assessment
This in-depth evaluation of high school students’ interests, abilities, and aptitudes uses a variety of tools including hands-on simulated work tasks, paper and pencil tests, career related inventories, and career exploration activities. Both assessment centers are staffed by certified vocational evaluators. A comprehensive report is sent to the student’s school for the IEP Case Manager/Special Services file, ETR, and parent or guardians.

Career Snapshot
Brief group assessments of interests, work preferences, and characteristics are conducted. Results may be used to identify career options for exploration, access materials, and resources available in the Career Center and community and develop a career action plan. The Career Snapshot takes place at the student’s school over three days. Students receive a brief profile of their interests, work-related characteristics, work preferences, strengths, and career resources to use in transition planning.

Interest and Aptitude Screening
The Career Scope assessment provides a quick career assessment of three major areas: aptitudes, occupational interests, and educational abilities in math and language arts. A computer-generated report assists students in their decision-making, while in school and after they graduate, and includes considerations for further high school coursework, postsecondary education and training options, and employment.

PERT Assessment
The Virginia Department for Aging and Rehabilitative Services (DARS) offers a comprehensive assessment each year to a limited number of students who are at least 16 years of age and are 2.5 years from graduation through PERT (Postsecondary Education Rehabilitation Transition). Students have the opportunity to live in a campus-like setting for an initial 5-10-day assessment at the Wilson Workforce Rehabilitation Center (WWRC) in Fishersville, Virginia. Areas assessed include career interests and abilities, independent living, and leisure skills. If recommended, students may return for supplemental follow-up assessments in their final two years.

General Education Career-related Course Offerings

Academic Course Offerings
Each school publishes a list of approved academic courses offered in that school, as well as consortium courses offered in other schools.

Career and Technical Education (CTE)
In CTE courses, students learn technical applications of many occupations while preparing for higher education or entry-level employment. Each high school determines the optional CTE courses it will offer. Advanced technical and specialized elective courses are available at the career academies located at Chantilly High School (HS), Edison HS, Fairfax HS, Falls Church HS, Marshall HS, and West Potomac HS. Academy support teachers assist students with disabilities in receiving the accommodations they need for success.
CTS Specialized Curriculum

Tools for Self-Advocacy
A set of curriculum modules, developed by FCPS special education teachers, teaches students to become decision-makers in their transition planning process and to advocate for themselves in achieving their goals. This curriculum consists of four units: Understanding Self-Advocacy; Knowing My Strengths, Weaknesses, and Accommodations; Participating in My Transition Plan; and Leading My IEP Meeting. An additional unit, Transitioning to My Future, is designed for students with more significant disabilities.

CTS Modified Course Offerings

Work Awareness and Transition (WAT)
This career exploration course is offered to students with disabilities in selected middle schools and is available to students in all high schools. WAT enables students to develop tentative career goals based on interests and aptitudes while building awareness and experience in job-keeping skills. In-school and community work experiences help WAT students extend their exploration and work-readiness skills.

Education for Employment (EFE)
This course teaches students to make informed career and continuing education choices as they transition from school, gain technical skills, and adapt to the workplace. Students are taught ethical behaviors and career research, job-acquisition, workplace-communication, self-awareness, self-advocacy, customer-service, and life skills. Students may also participate in community work experiences as part of this course.

Education for Employment for the Office (EFEO)
This two- or three-year course provides instruction in Microsoft computer applications, Google Apps, and office procedures. Following in-depth classroom instruction, students practice skills in community businesses. EFEO is offered at four sites: Cedar Lane School, Falls Church High School, Hayfield Secondary School, and Westfield High School.

The S. John Davis Center and Earl L. Pulley Center provide career and employment skills instruction to students with disabilities needing more support than is available in general education courses. Students are usually 18-22 years of age. Instruction is offered at a wide variety of community businesses.

Secondary Transition to Employment Program (STEP) is a collaborative effort among FCPS staff members and businesses in Fairfax County to provide students aged 18 to 22 with employment training in real work settings. In addition to learning work skills, students receive instruction in applied academics, self-advocacy, and independent living skills. Currently STEP is offered at four locations: Chantilly High School, Davis Career Center, Mount Vernon High School, and South Lakes High School.

Work Experience and Transition Support

Employment and Transition Support
Employment and Transition representatives (ETRs) help students transition from secondary to postsecondary environments. ETRs serve as the transition resource to students, staff members, parents or guardians, and the community. ETRs are assigned to all FCPS high schools, special Career Centers, and alternative education high schools.

Job Coach Services
Job Coach Services are designed to support students’ success as independent workers. Job coaches help students with special needs who have the potential for independent employment but need specialized, short-term, on-the-job support, and training to succeed.

Transition Resource Services
Transition specialists provide information, resources, and training for parents or guardians, students, and school personnel related to transition, adult services, and postsecondary education.

For more information, contact Career and Transition Services at 571-423-4150 or view the CTS website: https://www.fcps.edu/academics/academic-overview/special-education-instruction/career-and-transition-services
